

CE / UKCA STATEMENT

D839 / V1 / 29/11/2021

In line with the company policy of continued improvement and incorporation of the latest development on electrical construction and safety of our products, we are pleased to issue the following statement with respect to the EU Directive 768/2008/EC on CE Marking of electrical products and UKCA marking for placement of goods for market in Great Britain.

The insulation system and construction of the Heaters meet the requirements of all the relevant EU and UK directives including the Low Voltage Directive (LVD) and the Electromagnetic compatibility Directive (EMC) and corresponding UK legislation.

To meet these requirements "The Heaters" are produced to meet or exceed the requirements of all the relevant national and international standards.

In line with these directives, we have dual marked heaters with CE / UKCA.

EU legislation	UK legislation
2014/35/EU (LVD)	Electrical Equipment (Safety) Regulations 2016
2014/30/EU (EMC)	Electromagnetic Compatibility Regulations 2016

As required by the legislation above, the following documents are held at our Registered Company Office and Main Factory for a minimum period of 10 years.

- Technical Files
 - Design details and drawings
 - Construction details and drawings
 - Test details
- Third party test reports where applicable

As the "Heater" is supplied as a component to the customers specifications for installation by them as part of a final product, the installation and conditions of "The Heater" are beyond our control. The suitability for use and assessment to the EEC and UK directives when "The Heater" is incorporated within the final product will need to be made by the customer.

Where "Heaters" are supplied to the end user as a finished appliance suitable operating and safety instruction will be included.
